
Read a market, before the name

Five lenses, then two scores. The method, in four moves.

LOOK

Five lenses

- ▶ Past growth and current rent, the track record.
- ▶ Supply and demand, the pressure right now.
- ▶ Socio-economic strength, who is underneath the price.

LOOK

Sort by purpose

- ▶ Growth, income, or both. Name the job first.
- ▶ Compare within a purpose, never across.
- ▶ A growth market isn't losing for renting less.

SCORE

Twice, kept apart

- ▶ Performance: how it has actually behaved.
- ▶ Risk: how much could go wrong, and how fast.
- ▶ A loud number on heavy risk is strong-looking, not strong.

SCORE

Risk-adjust

- ▶ Let risk scale the score, not just dock it.
- ▶ The quiet market often tops the loud one.
- ▶ What you get is a shortlist you can defend.

A read, not a tip

It ends at a shortlist worth real work, not a purchase.
The full method is in this week's edition.